About Giving

Last month I sent out a request for help, not for myself but for the children around the world that Yoga of Devotion supports. The economy has touched all of us, pinching many of us tighter than ever before. However, our response is unfortunately the same as it has been since the Neanderthal – hoard what little we have. In a yogic perspective, this is the opposite action to be taken in a time of need. The more money you hold onto, the less you receive. For those of you still struggling with this truth, please consider giving it another try this month. Log onto www.tfchildrensfund.org and donate to the General Fund or any of the Programs listed. Your Donation helps with food, shelter, and care for TFW Children locally and around the world.
